MATTHEW CAREY

production designer / art director

I've been fortunate to work with exceptional designers, producers and writers in myriad genres within entertainment including film, television, commercials, theater, live award shows and a few quiz shows. Variety and exposure have afforded me a great many friends as well as a creative and unconventional toolkit.

Mindful of the balance between creativity and commerce, my strengths are defined by innovation, resourcefulness and the trust I build with my team members and the leaders who guide us. I thoroughly enjoy solving the puzzles and delivering beautiful & beneficial solutions.

I am a member of IATSE Local 800, a.k.a. The Art Directors Guild.

My degree is in Production Design from the Design Conservatory at Purchase College. I believe in continued education in design & technology to ensure a high standard of deliverables.

Currently, I divide most my time between Los Angeles and Nashville but continue to be thrilled at the opportunity to travel for work and create new adventures.
